Union of Parties.

Great responsibilities are resting up a the epposition to the national administration in New York and Massachusetts. For the eltimate union of their strength for the cartest in 1860, will depend very much upon the manner of conducting their State The tions this autuan. We fully recognize the right of every State to manage its can affairs; but when a local question is likely to have an important having up at a great mational issue, the whole comery becomes in terestal in its decision, and will naturally though feel a solithwise as to the manner of its adjustment. In both Massachuseur and New York, the Republican element of the opposition predominates. There are, have ever, two other clea cuts which it is of primany importance to have contillated in these States; the old Whigs, and the Americans ; not but what the Republicans may and probably can carry these two States without their aid. But the Republican party in these States is large enough as afford to be magnitudus; and if the Republicans, old Whigs and Americans can be united on some epitable basis in the two leading States of Massichusetts and New Work, with such precedents there will be last little difficulty in uniting the same shows the n other States.

Wherethe Street,—Phil Hickey, at Newark, found about even dollars, and immediately went on a spree, working himself up to an incipient stage of monin up polar. Friday night he slept in a burn belonging to a Mr. Lewis, and in the morning went into a house and askel for a keife, which was given to him. Hickey retuned to the barn, and, inserting the knife in this month, tiped open one theek as possible, and then turning the edge, served the other check in the same way, but dil not uncered in enting quite as long a gash as on the first attempt. After calarging his mouth to his entire sail quite so long a gash as on the first attempt. After calarging his mouth to his cattine satistaction, the wretched man commenced hasking at his throat. He managed to remove sufficient of the flesh to lay born the windpipe, arteries, &c., but the duffness of the knife provented the accomplishment of his sociedal purposed for can be supposed to have had any purpose at all. Even the horrible condition to which the poor fellow had reduced himself, did not preven him from craving for figure, and he drank a glass of whiskey with cageness, before his wounds had been attended to.

Remett of the Herald, always had an untipathy to Newport, because he disliked the passage through the ltare. In the recent parkt Regatts he has found a channel through Plan Gut by which his old difficulty can be avoided. Now, since he can come by the way of "the gut" we shall be most happy to see Lim and his gallant little Rebreca in Newport. We always knew of his propensities that way, and when he was not gratified he was always hieratured. But we had no idea that his penchant would trry blea ru far, as to her into the safety of I's favorite pet to gratify this carious deaire. We should be right glad to see Ben-154t in Newport again. Our hatelf keepers chastened supewhat by his lash may be willing to waive their little projeities against permitting him to come by the way of a the gut." 147TERIES.—The Lotteries of Eamuel

Swan & Co., are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly hororable manner.— They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of paries at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all nersons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co., are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lotter will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme on eticket in everyten must draw a prize. Tickets are 910; halves, $5; quarters, $250. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are up or the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that uome can fail to understand them. There is no condication of numbers to misitify the huyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,600; every prize ing drawn
